

LATIN AMERICA TRADE COALITION

April 25, 2008

To members of the U.S. Congress:

On behalf of the Latin America Trade Coalition — a broad-based group of more than 1,000 U.S. companies, business and agricultural organizations, and chambers of commerce — we are writing to urge Congress to approve the U.S.-Colombia Trade Promotion Agreement (CTPA) as soon as possible this year. Doing so will advance both the economic and foreign policy interests of the United States, to the immediate benefit of U.S. workers, farmers, consumers, and companies. It will also extend a helping hand to our friends in Colombia, who are making remarkable progress in securing democracy, human rights, and economic growth.

Colombia is the second largest Spanish-speaking country in the world, with dynamic economic growth averaging 5% over the past five years. Trade with the United States has nearly doubled in this period, approaching $18 billion in 2007. Nearly 8,000 U.S. companies export their products to Colombia, and over 80% of these are small and medium-sized companies that will benefit directly from CTPA.

Building on these strong ties, CTPA will transform the current U.S.-Colombia trade relationship into a fairer, mutually beneficial partnership. In 1991, Congress approved the Andean Trade Preference Act (ATPA), which has been renewed by bipartisan majorities several times in recent years. ATPA allows 93% of all imports from Colombia to enter the U.S. market duty free. By contrast, Colombia's average duty on imports from the U.S. is 14% for manufactured goods and more than 50% for key agricultural exports such as corn and wheat. In short, Colombians enjoy nearly free access to our market while our access to theirs remains limited.

CTPA will remedy the unfairness of today's U.S.-Colombia trade relationship by sweeping away most of Colombia's tariffs upon entry into force. In addition, the agreement will open services markets, secure the intellectual property of U.S. inventors, researchers, and creative artists, and introduce enforceable protections for worker rights and the environment.

The geostrategic importance of the agreement is also profound. CTPA will help Colombians lock in the gains of the past decade, which has seen violence fall to its lowest level in a generation. More than 40,000 fighters have been demobilized as insurgent groups lost legitimacy. Unemployment has fallen to single digits for the first time in 15 years, and the number of Colombians enrolling in school and the health care system has risen sharply. These achievements are a triumph of brave and principled Colombians as well as bipartisan U.S. foreign policy, which lent support through Plan Colombia and ATPA. CTPA will build on this solid foundation.

There is also broad support in the business community for promoting the competitiveness of U.S. workers, including through an enhanced Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program. TAA provides important assistance to dislocated workers seeking to adapt to changes wrought by participation in the global economy. We urge Congress and the administration to seize the chance to negotiate an enhanced TAA program alongside a commitment to consider the Colombia agreement favorably and advance the U.S. trade agenda.

Clearly, Congress can lend a helping hand to workers and farmers in both the U.S. and Colombia by approving this landmark agreement and by expanding TAA. For these reasons, we urge you to schedule hearings and subsequently a vote for the U.S.-Colombia Trade Promotion Agreement as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

- | | |
